Rollercoaster ride for charity cyclists

TWO intrepid cyclists arrived safely in Santa Monica, California, last week after a dramatic adventure involving a fall, an attempted mugging and a bereavement.

Ottery resident Jon Gooch and Honiton man John Mathieson have spent the past three weeks cycling from Chicago to Santa Monica Pier along Route 66 in aid of charity.

The two men, who are colleagues at Sainsbury's supermarket in Ottery St Mary, were aided by a support vehicle driver and reserve cyclist Anthony Blythe from Woodbury.

They started their adventure in early June and reached their destination on Thursday, June 27th after a very testing experience.

The team members were recuperating State-side when Pulman's View spoke to Jon's wife Vicki Sargent on Thursday afternoon.

She said: "What I know about the trip is limited as we have not been able to talk much.

"They had a knife pulled on them somewhere in Texas by a man who wanted a dollar and John came off his bike at the end of week two, but managed to keep going after a short rest.

"Week three has been very tough as they have been cycling with seized muscles and bad sunburn.

"They struggled to take on enough water in the day and have been sleeping in tents, so very cold at night.

"They have seen some beautiful scenery as well as the devastation caused by a very aggressive hurricane."

To make things even tougher, Jon suffered a bereavement during the trip.

Vicki said: "Jon's granddad sadly passed away this week, giving him an extra blow on a very hard week.

"He was Jon's number one supporter and very proud of what they were achieving.

"As well as raising money for charity, Jon would like to dedicate this to an amazing grandfather, Norman Gooch, who will be greatly missed by us all."

Jon is a former soldier who spent seven years with 1st Battalion, The Rifles, which included an operational tour in Iraq.

These days he is a team leader at Sainsbury's in Ottery St Mary, and he is also a retained firefighter.

Jon, John and Anthony embarked on the adventure in aid of The Firefighters' Charity.

There is still time to donate, either directly at Sainsbury's in Ottery St Mary or online via www.justgiving.com/jonathan-gooch.

15-year-old in train tragedy

POLICE have confirmed that a teenage boy from the Colyton area died after being struck by a train on the railway between Axminster and Honiton.

The teenager's identity has not been disclosed but a spokesperson for British transport Police (BTP) said: "Officers from BTP and Devon & Cornwall Police attended the railway line near Lexhayne Lane, Axminster, on Friday after a report of a person being struck by a train.

"Medics from the South Western Ambulance Service also attended and located a body of a 15-year-old boy from the Colyton area at the scene."

Although the identity has not been disclosed, it is understood that the boy attended the Woodroffe School in Lyme Regis.

The incident happened at about 7am and the spokesperson added: "The incident is being treated as non-suspicious.

"A file is being prepared for the coroner, who is expected to open and adjourn an inquest into the boy's death later this week."

The line between Axminster and Honiton was closed and South West Trains (SWT) organised a limited number of taxis to convey passengers between Honiton and Axminster. Passengers were also asked to use existing bus services between Axminster and Exeter via Honiton during the line closure.

The train involved was the 6:15am Yeovil Junction-Exeter (SWT) service and the line was handed back to Network Rail at 8:16am.

Another ton for Hurford

AXMINSTER maintained their challenge in the Francis Clark Devon League C Division with a comprehensive victory over struggling Dartmouth & Totnes, the highlight of which was another brilliant century from the in-form Johnny Hurford.

Axminster batted first, posting 283-6 off their allotted overs with Hurford giving the visiting fielders the run-around all afternoon, receiving good support from Robbie Prior (44) and Joel Seward (44).

Dartmouth were never a match for the lively Axminster attack and were skittled out for just 101. Prior (5-25) was the pick of the Axminster bowlers.

A TEAM from Honiton Gymnastics Club has just returned from the Geneva International Acro Cup clutching a haul of medals and as winners of the competition's overall team trophy.

The 15 gymnasts - aged between 10 and 21 - were competing at the annual international gymnastics competition, which featured performers from countries including Russia, Ireland, South Africa and Switzerland. The talented youngsters brought home six gold medals, four silvers, two bronzes, and two fourth places.

"Our gymnasts competed excellently and represented both the club and Honiton admirably," said Helen Reddy, high performance coach at Honiton Gymnastics Club.

"It's always satisfying to perform well when you go to competitions abroad, so for so many of our gymnasts to take top honours in Switzerland is credit not only to them but also the progress that the gym club is currently making."

Council fail to save key site

A PIONEERING attempt to prevent a prime site in Axminster being sold for housing has failed.

Axminster Town Council used new legislation to try to find a "community use" for the old magistrates' court and police station site in Lyme Close.

By requesting that the site was listed as an Asset of Community Value, the town council hoped to win enough time to decide on a community use for the site and prepare a bid to buy the land.

It is widely anticipated that the two landowners - Devon County Council and Devon and Cornwall Police - will sell the land for housing once police officers have moved in with firefighters down the road.

This is why Axminster Town Council set up a four-strong sub-committee consisting of Douglas Hull, Mervyn Symes, Chris Scott and John Stevenson earlier this year, tasked with saving the site from being lost to housing.

The Community Right to Bid (part of The Localism Act) provided a potential way of achieving the aim.

The new legislation empowers local communities to request that local assets (land or buildings) are listed as Assets of Community Value.

In short, a listing would delay a sale for a fixed period of time to allow the community group involved to put together its own bid.

However, a listing does not restrict to whom the asset owner can sell, nor at what price.

But by requesting Asset of Community Value listing, the town council hoped to win the time needed to prepare a bid and find potential partners.

But East Devon District Council (EDDC) - the authority keeping the Asset of Community Value list - said on Tuesday, June 25th that the application had been denied.

EDDC told the town council: "The principal use of the land neither now, nor in the recent past, furthers the social wellbeing or cultural, recreational or sporting interests of the local community."

"It does not therefore meet the criteria set out in the Localism Act to be eligible for listing."

There is no formal right of appeal, but the applicant can request informal review.

Town councillor Douglas Hull was disappointed and said: "I feel it is a case of East Devon District Council not bothering about that little place at the end of the county, Axminster."

"You would have thought that the court and police are part of community works and life."

"I really think we should look at it again, but it is up to the town council to make that decision."

From the editor's chair A trip they will never forget

I HAVE written many times in this column about the fantastic feats that our readers get up to in the cause of charity.

Up there among the most ambitious is the attempt by Ottery resident Jon Good and John Mathieson who have spent three weeks cycling across America on Route 66 from Chicago to Santa Monica Pier in California to raise money for The Firemen's Charity (formerly the National Firefighters' Benevolent Fund).

But as we report on the front page of our Honiton edition, and in this news round-up, it has not been a trip without its problems.

The two men, who both work for Sainsbury's in Ottery, were assisted by their support driver and reserve cyclist Anthony Blythe, from Woodbury, and are now recuperating in the Golden State after a trip of a lifetime which will live long in their memory.

Apart from the sheer physical effort of undertaking such a mammoth journey, they have had to endure many challenges along the route, including having a knife pulled on them in an attempted mugging, extreme temperatures during the day and bitter cold nights under canvas and some near-miss crashes. But the biggest set-back came when Jon heard of the death of his number one supporter, his grandfather, Norman Gooch.

Jon, a former soldier with The Rifles Regiment, having served in Iraq, has decided fittingly to dedicate his great achievement to his grandfather.

♦ AFTER a turbulent period peppered with in-fighting and resignations, Seaton Town Council has appointed a new town clerk in Mike Neale, who lives in Colyford.

After 35 years working in the banking world in London, Mr Neale takes up his new role with a wealth of experience which will undoubtedly be tested in the months and (hopefully) years to come.

As I wrote recently in this column, Seaton desperately needs a period of stability and it is to be hoped that Mr Neale will be given the opportunity to get his feet under the Town Hall table and help steer Seaton through the challenges that the next few years will surely throw up.

We wish him well.

SEATON

More employment units to be built

THE first ever consultation for employment land at Colyford Road and the Fosseyway site took place this week, with aims to boost employment levels in Seaton.

EDDC is hoping to provide a major improvement to employment provision in Seaton, with an idea to build new units on land the council has acquired at Fosseyway Park together with a former depot site off Colyford Road, set behind the current St John Ambulance building.

The proposal would supplement the workshop units at Riverside, whose longer-term future is bound up in the development proposals for the regeneration area.

The plans are in their very first stages, with the first ever consultation event taking place last Monday at Seaton Town Hall.

The public consultation related to the workshops, asking the public to express their views on investing in new work-space to cater for the needs of new or expanding businesses in Seaton, as well as how to best make use of the space.

The public were asked if they think investment in employment for the town was necessary, if EDDC were to build what they would build (e.g. the size of the units) and information was also sought from businesses about the numbers they employ and the space they would need.

County and district councillor, Jim Knight said: "I am very pleased to hear that employment units will be built soon on two areas situated on two main routes into town."

"This will give our local residents a place to set up a new business or move to newer premises if they need to expand a thriving business."

The consultation comes as part of Seaton's regeneration plans, with a number of projects including the proposed discovery centre, which the council say represents a real vote of confidence in boosting Seaton's economy and employment prospects.

Exhibition will celebrate town's link with lace

THE search is on for women to be part of an exciting installation project at the Thelma Hulbert Gallery in September that will celebrate Honiton's long association with lace.

'Net Curtains' is a special project to bring together local women in the creation of an ambitious art installation that inhabits the whole of the Thelma Hulbert Gallery (THG) in Honiton. The gallery is a late Georgian town house formerly the home and studio of artist Thelma Hulbert.

Artist Andrea Stokes has been invited to create an installation at the gallery as part of the exhibition 'intoLACE'.

She explained: "I am really excited to have the opportunity to work with local women on this huge collaborative drawing and to make a close connection with the house and the history of women making lace."

The installation will be a drawing that appears to fill the whole building and engages with the house and its histories, incorporating designs from traditional Honiton Lace – a craft the town is renowned for since the 17th century.

The installation will cover the inside of every window in the gallery and will be visible from inside and out.

The drawing will have the delicate quality of lace and will create the illusion of 'net curtains' in all the windows of the house with one continuous line/thread that travels and weaves over the entire space.

Councillor John O'Leary, East Devon District Council's Culture Champion, said: "I'm very excited at the prospect of this installation, which has the potential to make the gallery look spectacular. There is a magical quality about the appearance of lace and this project to dress the windows of THG in celebration of Honiton's long tradition in the lace industry could not be more appropriate."

Steady hand

A team of 24 local women will transfer the design onto the windows during a two-day event. Each participant will be paid £250 for taking part. All women over 18 are welcome to apply, and priority will be given to women who live in the East Devon district.

You don't need any prior experience or artistic skills, just a steady hand and an enthusiasm to be part of an exciting collaboorative art event.

The dates for the project are planned for September 4th and 5th 2013 and to take part you must be available on both of these days and be happy to be photographed during the event.

Selection will be by application form and short informal interviews. The deadline for applications is 12pm on Wednesday July 24th and interviews will take place on Monday July 29th.

The completed drawing will form a major part of the exhibition 'intoLACE' at the Thelma Hulbert Gallery, which aims to bring together artists whose work references lace.

The exhibition will run from September 14th until November 2nd 2013 in partnership with Devon Guild of Craftsmen.

For an application form and more information, please send an SAE to Net Curtains, Thelma Hulbert Gallery, Elmfield House, Dowell Street, Honiton, Devon EX14 1LX. You can also phone 01404 45006 or email info@thelmahulbert.com.

This project is generously supported by Arts Council England, Thelma Hulbert Gallery and Kingston University.

Littletown pupils meet Olympian Karina

MEETING AN OLYMPIAN | Children from Littletown Primary Academy enjoyed meeting bronze medallist and expert judo athlete, Karina Bryant, at the Superschools event

CHILDREN from Littletown Primary Academy were focused on keeping fit on Friday when they received a visit from 'Superschools' and Olympic bronze medallist, Karina Bryant.

Aiming to raise the profile of keeping fit and healthy, the day began with children arriving to school dressed as their favourite sports star.

All the children from the school took part, getting the opportunity to get their picture taken with judo athlete and London Olympics star, Karina, and ask her about her experiences in winning a bronze medal last year.

The children were also sponsored to do a range of sporting activities from star jumps to press ups, rotating throughout the morning.

The finale for the day was a special assembly, where Karina showcased her judo skills and welcomed some of the children and teachers to give judo a try.

All the money raised from the day helps to support 'Team Superschools,' which aims to give schools the opportunity to be inspired by meeting an Olympian or international sports star. Emphasising that sports can be fun, the charity aims to inspire young children and show them that their sporting dreams can be possible.

Sixty per cent of the money raised through sponsorship and photographs from the day will go back into Littletown Primary Academy to be used for sports equipment and PE events, whilst the remaining 40 per cent supports Superschools in funding young athletes for the future.

Praise for CAB volunteers

VOLUNTEERS at East Devon Citizens' Advice Bureau (CAB) have been praised for being part of a wider team contributing £100 million worth of work last year.

CAB chief executive Gillian Guy summed up last year's activity and said that volunteers in England and Wales contributed £100 million worth of working hours to help local communities in 2012.

East Devon has 45 volunteers helping out at bureaux and outreach centres in Axminster, Honiton, Sidmouth, Seaton, Ottery and Exmouth.

Their total contribution is estimated to be worth more than £250,000 each year.

East Devon CAB manager Chris Griffiths said: "Our team of volunteers is diverse and, nationally, the CAB are seeing more and more young people give us their time."

"Volunteering at a bureau is a great way to prepare for work or get some vital experience, with almost two-thirds of our volunteers aged under 25 leaving to go straight into paid employment or education."

"Volunteers in our bureau are an indispensable part of the service we give to people in East Devon."

"Volunteering offers people of any background the opportunity to develop their skills whilst contributing to their community."

"In our bureau for example, our volunteers undertake all sorts of tasks, including reception duties, gateway and advising. Other people give up their time to run the bureau as trustees and we are just setting up a fundraising friends group."

"I am hugely grateful to all of the fantastic people in our bureau who give up their time to help us deliver the advice to our clients which, in the face of such a tough pressure on people's personal finances, is more vital than ever."

Project to rid area of Himalayan balsam

PEOPLE willing to uproot Himalayan balsam from Honiton to Colyford are being sought.

The initiative is part of a wider Natural England project to bring non-native and highly invasive plant species under control.

Coly Valley co-ordinator Louise Woolley said: "I am looking for volunteers to help with Himalayan balsam clearance from Honiton down to Colyford."

"The plant is an invasive species and is causing havoc with our riverbank habitats."

"The days will run from 10am until 3:30pm on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays, with plenty of breaks."

"The work doesn't involve using tools nor is it heavy going and sessions will run from June through to October."

"The sooner we can clear it the better before it is in flower. A packed lunch and drinks will be needed as well as long sleeves, trousers and wellies; hopefully sun cream and a sun hat will be needed too."

The project's purpose is to give landowners a head start with management so that after a three-year period, the number of plants should be dramatically reduced and within the management capabilities of the landowner.

According to Louise, hand pulling is the preferred technique as this removes the roots of the plants.

The plant will pull up very easily as the root system is so shallow.

Other dates and areas are also available volunteers. Contact Louise Woolley on 01395 512536, 07905 418460 or lousiewoolley@hotmail.co.uk for more information.

Hawkchurch bell tower restored

THE parish church of St John the Baptist in Hawkchurch was packed for a service of thanksgiving for the restoration of the bell frames and tower, costing £40,000.

Before the service, attended by nearly 100 parishioners and friends, and conducted by the Team Vicar of Golden Cap Benefice, the Reverend Jane Skinner, the Archdeacon of Sherborne, the venerable Paul Taylor, visited the bell tower to meet the ringers and bless the work.

The bells, which had been silent for some time whilst the work was carried out, rang out before the service started with the singing of "Organges and Lemons", by local children and which included a special Hawkchurch last line.

All the hymns chosen for the service had a bells theme, including "Glad bells Ring Loud and Clear", "Ring Out Glad Bells", "Let Bells Peal Forth The Universal Fame" and "Ding Dong Merrily On High". The choir also sang "The Bell At Creation".

Thanksgiving prayers were led by the Rector of the Golden Cap Benefice, the Reverend Stephen Skinner, and one of the church's youngest bellringers, Christopher Loveridge, delivered a bible reading.

In his sermon, the Archdeacon described the service as "a very special occasion for the church and village" and reminded that the bells were last restored in 1925.

He also praised the community effort in raising the £40,000 needed to pay for the work, most of which was undertaken by bell maker and restorer, Andrew Nicholson, a leading congregation member at St Michael's Parish Church in Lyme Regis, who was present at the service.

During the offertory hymn, a collection was made for Christopher Loveridge's appeal to fund his voluntary work camp trip to Tanzania next year.

The service concluded with the presentation of a gift to churchwarden Julie Baker for overseeing the restoration project.

Alfie's sculpture unveiled

AN exciting family community festival is being held by East Devon District Council in Honiton on Saturday, July 6th and will feature the official unveiling of a special Jubilee sculpture.

The community festival will be held at Allhallows Field from 1pm to 4pm.

Children can enjoy face painting, circus skills, a bouncy castle and many other attractions, all for free.

The new sculpture on the side of Honiton Leisure Centre has been in place for a little while, but will be formally celebrated and officially unveiled at 1.30pm by EDDC Deputy Chairman, Councillor Christine Drew, as part of the event.

The mosaic sculpture was designed by six-year-old Alfie Gibbins from Fenny Bridges near Honiton after the previous EDDC Chairman, Councillor Peter Halse, asked young people to draw their ideas for a sculpture to celebrate young people last year for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Hundreds of enthusiastic children and young people entered the competition. Alfie's design won and he worked with local artist, Gordon Field, to turn his drawing into a real life sculpture.

Councillor Christine Drew, EDDC Deputy Chairman and Member Champion for Children and Young People said: "Children and young people are a vital part of every community and are our future, which is why EDDC run these community festival events throughout the district.

"The afternoon promises to be full of fun and games, I would urge residents to come along if they can. I am really looking forward to seeing Alfie's sculpture, and officially unveiling it."

School summer fete

Littleton Primary Academy will be holding their summer fete on Friday, July 12th, starting at 3.15pm in the school grounds.

Pete takes on the Tour de France

A DUNKESWELL man is off to France next month to cover the final ten stages of a world famous cycling race.

To mark the 100th edition of the Tour de France, and his own 60th birthday, Pete Barker aims to cycle the final ten stages of the 2013 Tour de France route the day before the professionals arrive.

His challenge totals 1,024 miles, and will fulfill a lifelong ambition of his.

Pete used to enter races about 30-years-ago, so isn't a novice.

His 60th birthday was on March 18th, and he said: "The routes are marked out the day before, so you only follow the markers.

"I've always wanted to ride a few stages of Tour de France."

Pete will be using his efforts to raise funds for two charities that are close to his heart, Afasic and the British Dyslexia Association.

He has chosen to support these charities because he has a grandson who has been affected by Pete explained: "These are two fantastic charities that help so many children who struggle to communicate.

"I am pleased to be using this ride to help raise much needed funds for them, as well as awareness of language and reading difficulties.

"I hope that people will support my efforts on the bike."

Pete's wife Deborah is also in on the act and will be driving a camper to make sure he has access to refreshments and a place to saty.

Foodbank success

FOODBANK in Seaton continues to grow and its organisers have issued an updated list of what food they would love people to donate.

The foodbank was started earlier this year by Christians Together in Seaton and is supported by a number of local agencies and organisations and, most importantly, by the people of Seaton.

Foodbank secretary Simon d'Albertanson said: "The project continues to grow and develop and we now have a smooth and sustainable way of working each week that focuses on our Wednesday opening at the Resource Centre in Fore Street.

"We have a large number of our voucher holders from both the statutory and voluntary sectors and referrals come from a wide variety of sources.

"The flow of food in and out of the store fluctuates but stocks never get critical. No food is wasted as any short date items are passed on to a local safe house for immediate use.

"We have been able to support the Axminster foodbanks and we have received overstocks from other foodbanks.

"Our current needs are fruit juice, squash, potatoes (canned or dried), pasta sauce, rice and instant savoury rice or noodles.

"Food can be donated at any church in the town and the Town Hall. We will soon also have a collection point in Tesco in Seaton.

"We now have a Facebook page where we post immediate needs and the latest news. If you are a Facebook user please search Foodbank Seaton or go to - www.facebook.com/FoodbankSeaton."

Edna celebrates milestone birthday

by Laura Goldsbury Noy
laura@pemedial.co.uk

There were celebrations all round when friends and family of Branscombe lady, Edna Hill, gathered for her 100th birthday.

A huge crowd of family members and close friends arrived at Seaton Hospital on Sunday to celebrate the milestone birthday with Edna, bringing with them piles of presents and cards.

Trustees of the Seaton and District Hospital

League of Friends, Pamela Page and Diana Pavey also joined in the celebrations, bringing along a bunch of flowers and a special birthday cake on behalf of the hospital.

Edna came to Branscombe aged six and stayed in the village until six-years-ago, when she went to live with her niece Monica Bromfield and Monica's husband Peter in Colyton.

Edna is well known in Branscombe for her work as a tea lady in the Sea

Shanty, where she worked right up until she was 81-years-old.

Now Edna enjoys keeping her mind active with wordsearches and quizzes and spending time with her family.

When asked what the secret to reaching 100 years old was, Edna replied that it was getting up nice and early and getting on with lots of hard work.

She added that the birthday celebrations had been lovely as she had got a chance to see all her family and she was particularly pleased to get a card from the Queen.

Busy weekend for French twinningers

A VISIT of nearly 50 visitors from Seaton's twin town of Thury-Harcourt, Normandy, France will be extra special with a planned programme of events to celebrate what Seaton has to offer.

As a highlight there will be a public celebration to mark the official naming of Thury-Harcourt Place in Seaton in honour of the French town.

The formal naming ceremony on Sunday, July 7th will start with a display by Seaton Majorettes at 3pm. After this there will be short speeches made from the top of a tram provided by Seaton Tramway, followed by the unveiling of the name board.

Among those attending will be local MP, Neil Parish, County Councillor Jim Knight, and the mayors of the two towns, Paul Chandelier of Thury-Harcourt, and Gaynor Sedgwick of Seaton.

Paul Chandelier is making a special journey to Seaton overnight and will be returning to France immediately after the celebration.

After the unveiling the celebrations will continue with Morris dancing by Uplyme Morris Men and light refreshments.

To make their visit extra special, visitors to the town will be shown a programme of activities highlighting what Seaton has to offer. These activities include a visit to the wetlands centre in co-operation with Axe Vale and District Conservation Society, canoeing with the Axe Vale Canoe Club, a cycle ride with the help of Axe Valley Pedallers, and a visit to a special opening of Seaton Museum.

Clare Jones of Seaton and District Twinning Association said that she was delighted that so many of Seaton's organisations had come together to assist in the visit and said the Twinning Association wanted to underline the fact that the exchange was not simply between the two associations, but should embrace the entire populations of both towns.

Already plans are being discussed to co-operate with Seaton Football Club who are planning to visit their Thury-Harcourt counterparts next year, and with Axe Valley Pedallers who were aiming to make a similar visit.

The French party will include the deputy mayor of Thury-Harcourt who has special responsibility for promoting the activities of local groups.

The twinningers would be delighted to introduce any local groups who wished to explore Thury Harcourt in the future to him to further boost the involvement of local groups with twinning activities.

AMAZEing effort from green fingered pupils

■ RIBBON CUTTING: Some of the Year Three group gathered with town mayor, Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick as she officially cuts the ribbon and opens the new maze garden

YEAR three children from Seaton Primary School have been hard at work this term, painting, planting and tidying the school maze garden.

Giving their playground some much needed TLC, the group have been working on their summer term geography project "Improving Our School Environment!" and decided the school maze should be given some attention.

With help from the Seaton in Bloom committee and the school's PTA, they were able to paint fencing and benches in bright colours, as well as create colourful plaques

by Laura Goldsbury Noy
laura@pemedial.co.uk

and games for the area.

The children wrote letters to various local businesses and were all astonished by the level of support offered.

Thanks were given to Otter Nurseries, particularly Marilyn White and Sabine Taylor, for their time spent visiting and re-designing each of the six main planters in the maze, as well as their £300 donation of compost, shrubs and bedding plants.

Thanks also went to Homebase who donated ready-planted hanging baskets for the project and trays of petunias for an extra splash of colour.

At a special unveiling event, sponsors of the garden gathered with the children as well as town mayor, Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick, who cut the ribbon and officially opened the new maze garden.

On cutting the ribbon she said: "I am absolutely delighted to see the maze garden opened. Well done to all of you."

"You're the people who did the hard work and it is a really huge achievement.

Seaton and the school should be proud of you all."

Year three teachers Mrs Powell and Mrs Bennett also added that they were very proud of the work the children have put into their project and are extremely grateful for all the help they have been given from the local community.

Each child involved has produced their own garden diary, highlighting what they have learnt and their involvement in the project. The garden has now been entered into this year's Seaton in Bloom competition.

School donates £2,900

COLYTON Grammar School students have presented a cheque for £2,937.37 to the Forces Children's Trust.

The money was raised throughout the school year from numerous events, which included a non-school uniform day, the selling of wristbands and badges and the grand finale, a talent show for and by students and staff, including a staff performance of "Blackadder Goes Forth".

The money raised will go to help children whose mother or father have died or sustained life-threatening injuries while serving in the British Armed Forces.

Fiona Harvey, who co-ordinated the fundraising, said: "It was a fantastic whole

A lesson in leadership

YEAR 11 students at Colyton Grammar School recently took part in an all-day leadership and team challenge led by members of the Armed Forces.

The day focused on developing leadership skills and working well as a team, as well as giving students the chance to see the qualities needed to be a soldier.

The students rotated around different tasks during the day - one involved mimicking the work needed to retrieve a casualty from a minefield, requiring them to work together as a team, but also in competition with the other teams.

Private Paige of the Third Battalion, Parachute Regiment, said: "It was fantastic to see the students working so well together, and the good weather made the day even more enjoyable".

Hospital unit receives £1,000 from horse show organisers

LAST year's chosen beneficiary of Tytherleigh Horse Show charity has been presented with a £1,000 cheque.

Following the unseasonal weather last June, last year's show was delayed until August but was still very well supported.

A presentation was made on Wednesday, June 12th to Somerset Unit for Radiotherapy Equipment (SURE).

Horse show chairman David Carslake said: "The show has always been run on the day by volunteers and friends.

"Without these people and the generosity of many local sponsors the show would not survive.

"The committee would like to take this opportunity to thank all these people and the sponsors once again.

"The show has run nearly every year since the inaugural show in 1919, then helping to support local ex-servicemen.

"This year the committee has chosen to support a local charity, The Rosie Crane Trust in Ilminster, which supports bereaved parents."

This year's show was set to be held over the weekend on Saturday, June 22nd.

■ BLESSED: As one of his last duties, the Reverend McCollum blesses the new wedding venue watched by Cranberries Hideaway owner Steven Littley

Village vicar leaves for new life in Canada

A VICAR is to swap a string of village churches for a big city church in Canada.

Alastair McCollum has left the parishes of Kilminster, Stockland, Yacombe, Shute, Dalwood and Whitford for a job as rector of a church in Victoria, British Columbia.

Originally from Devon, he moved away and lived in London and Cambridge before returning about five years ago.

The move to Canada came about by chance about a year ago when he took a funeral in Kilminster.

The deceased's son worked at a cathedral in Victoria, and told the Reverend McCollum he thought the job in Victoria would be right for him.

Alastair said: "I laughed and had no intention of going anywhere."

But he spoke to his wife Jo about it and one thing led to another.

They departure on Friday and Alastair said: "It is going to be a bit of a wrench moving on.

"They are a very supportive group of parishes with some really good and fun people."

One of his last jobs was to bless the new wedding venue at Cranberries Hideaway in Kilminster.

Although not a religious wedding venue, he was happy to perform the blessing and said: "I think weddings are good things whatever way they happen."

Lots on show at West Hill

THE village hall in West Hill was packed when the residents' association helped showcase what goes on in the village

The residents' association had invited groups and organisations to show what is available locally, including the short mat bowling club, Ottery in Bloom, the garden club, the bridge club, the school, the Royal British Legion, the twinning association, Music with Mummy, the Conservative Association, Community Speed Watch and St Michael's Church.

The event took place on Friday, June 14th and West Hill Residents' Association chairman Dick Beardsall said: "After a series of short presentations, where pupils from West Hill Primary School stole the show with a wonderful performance, residents were able to drink a glass of wine or a cup of tea and tour the displays put on by the organisations.

"This was a great evening for all and showed what a vibrant community West Hill is."

Former farm girl gives flower demonstration at Sidmouth

SHEILA Gibson-Mattison combined her demonstration, "The World Becomes a Smaller Place", with numerous anecdotes from her childhood in Yorkshire when Sidmouth Flower Arranging Club met on June 25th.

She came from a farming family and had the freedom to pick and enjoy many wild flowers, which lead to a keen interest in gardening as she grew older. Sheila still loves to use garden material and brought plenty of it with her.

All her arrangements were on a more domestic scale than many of the group's demonstrators, so those who won them in the raffle had lovely things to fit into their homes without too much alteration.

One rather different piece was done in a black Japanese pot in the Ikebana style using contorted willow branches and just two beautiful peonies, which came from her daughter's garden.

A green glass vase was used to good effect with variegated hostas leaves around the perimeter and the centre crowded with red gerberas, roses and spray carnations. For extra "zing" Sheila added lime green medelino sticks and wisps of sisal.

She made many references to the changes that have occurred in the world of flower arranging in her lifetime. In the days before oasis the only method to secure stems was with crumpled chicken wire and in competition any accessories or non-plant material was frowned upon; nowadays it is positively encouraged.

In all she did five pieces of work for members, as well as judging the members' competition which she said she really enjoyed.

Members were congratulated on their interpretations of "Summer Fruits".

The group then enjoyed tea and refreshments.

Rotarians learn about local college's ASPIRE programme

REBECCA Levi, the ASPIRE co-ordinator of Axe Valley Community College, gave an inspired and motivating talk to Axminster Rotary Club.

Explaining that ASPIRE is a programme at the college to raise the aspirations of gifted and talented learners, she also explained how the college is an "outward facing" school, where youngsters can develop in a number of ways through the ASPIRE programme.

Providing a whole education, developing links, raising personal aspirations, relating education to the whole world, and encouraging to become more involved were a few of the aims outlined by Rebecca.

Organised into the school years of the lower school ages (Years 5 to 8) and upper school (Years 9 to 13), the activities included workshops delivered by experts, visiting artistes, writers, cultural trips, residential courses, master classes and one to one coaching – courses were delivered in partnership with Exeter University, local and national businesses, charities and talented and gifted organisations locally.

Rotarians were encouraged to be involved, and asked a number of searching questions.

Individuals or organisations wishing to learn more can contact Rebecca at the college on 01297 32146 or email on rlevi@axevalley.devon.sch.uk.

East Devon Women's Institutes ROUND UP

SEATON

AIMEE Guard conducted the meeting of Seaton WI on June 18th as a change in format with the guest speaker going before business.

John Cooper gave a very interesting talk about upholstery. As well as showing members the many stages needed to upholster a chair, he also gave his enlightening take on how the many layers needed to get a perfect result had similarities to the layers needed in life to achieve satisfactory endings. It was a very amusing and entertaining insight.

Jean Allsopp presented the annual silver Rose Bowl for the best coronation themed floral arrangement to Heather Marraner. Flower of the month results were as follows: 1st Julia Bealing, 2nd Sue Walker, 3rd Sheila Rumble. Mary Fone won the competition for best upholstered item.

Jan gave her report on the annual general meeting at Cardiff and the treasurer's report, after which members enjoyed a coronation tea with delicious homemade goodies bought in by the group.

Members were very pleased to see a new visitor this month and would love to see many more. The next meeting before the August break is on July 16th at 2pm in Seaton Methodist Church Hall.

AXMOUTH

DURING the May meeting of Axmouth WI the following ladies were elected onto the committee:

Denise Gates (president), Beryl Elston, Sue Barnard, Lorraine Hipkin, Fracis Northcott, Norma Sweetland, Val Trendall, Alison Morris and Betty Board.

The June meeting, members were invited to the home of High and Alston Morris for a garden party. Although the day was warm, a light mist hovered but members still enjoyed an incredible variety of salmon sandwiches, strawberries and cream and homemade cakes.

The winner of the Skittles Trophy this year was named as Virginia Bowd.

The winner of the best-decorated hat was Hilary Mabon.

The next meeting will be at Axmouth Village Hall on July 16th at 2.30pm when there will be a talk on bone china. Anyone wishing to attend will be most welcome.

As well as monthly meetings, members also meet up to play scrabble, skittles and learn handicrafts. The group meets with other WI branches and goes on outings.

Through becoming a WI member, one can tap into many resources, such as writing competitions, canoeing days, and visits to the Tate Museum in St Ives.

The WI has its own training college, Denman, in Oxford, where members can learn a huge number of skills, arts, crafts, cookery or just stay for bed and breakfast. Croquet days are also available in September locally.

For further details contact the branch's secretary Lorraine on 01297 22560.

Moles take on Race For Life

■ A TEAM from Musbury Moles Pre-School walked five kilometres for Race For Life at the weekend. Joining the Cancer Research UK event at Westpoint, Exeter, were treasurer Mrs Philpots who was 30 weeks pregnant, chairman Laura Holmes, pre-school leader Claire Brookes and assistant Kat Hole plus pre-school children Kiera and Amber Brookes, Eva and Ellie Horne, and Ben, Ellie and Lilly Holmes. The team raised more than £200 and completed the course in just over an hour. They said it was a "very emotional day and a brilliant cause".

Musbury pre-school is here to stay!

MUSBURY Moles Pre-School has stressed that it will carry on regardless what happens to the adjoining Musbury Primary School.

As reported last week, education bosses say that an ongoing consultation could possibly result in the closure of Musbury Primary School.

Musbury Moles Pre-School is located within the primary school, but is not part of the consultation and will carry on regardless.

A spokesperson said: "Musbury Moles Pre-School is not affected by the school and continues to go from strength to strength every week.

"We are accepting new children in the new term and continue to grow."

PULMAN'S VIEW FROM LETTERS

Christian Aid thank Axminster for supporting annual appeal

■ As the advert on television this year showed, Christian Aid has a track record of providing the poorest communities across the world with the tools and support they need to help themselves out of poverty, providing opportunities for them make a better income from the skills and scant resources available to them.

I am writing to thank everyone in the Axminster area for their generous response to our Christian Aid Week appeal this year.

Together we have raised an impressive £2,514.28 for this vital work - of which more than 40 per cent was gift aided.

With our new approach to the collection, where we delivered the familiar Red Envelopes to almost every home in the town and associated villages, so many of you responded really generously, dropping off your gifts, big and small, at the local Post Offices.

We look forward to bringing the same opportunity to the town next May in Christian Aid Week, so that together we can continue to make a real difference to the lives of so many of our struggling neighbours.

JEAN CLEARE,
Local Christian Aid organiser

LEATHERWORKERS Iain and Sue Gunn first began their craft in north west Scotland, where they ran a shop for 18 years before semi-retiring to Sidford in East Devon.

They have recently opened a new shop selling their leatherwork at the Town Mill in Lyme Regis.

They have previously lived elsewhere in Devon and in Cornwall, and have two grown-up children and two grandchildren.

● HOW did you get into leather-work?

We began our leatherwork in the far north west of Scotland at Balnakeil in Sutherland. We heard about an ex-RAF camp which had been used as a craft village. We were there for two years when our children were very small and loved working among other crafts-people.

After that we moved back to Devon and worked in another mill, at the Wheel Craft workshops in Chudleigh. Sadly, after two more years the whole place was commissioned for house-building on a massive scale, which is when we left and went to Ullapool, Scotland, where we had our own very successful craft shop for 18 years.

● WHY did you decide to open your new shop in Lyme Regis?

After running our shop in Scotland for 18 years, we decided to semi-retire and moved back to Devon. After three years of not doing anything very much, we missed the creative part of our lives and started to look around for an outlet.

After a few false starts we found an empty craft shop at the Town Mill in Lyme Regis where we enjoy working in a creative, artistic community.

● WHEN is the shop open?

We are open 11.45am to 4pm but closed Mondays.

● WHAT kind of things do you sell?

Our work includes leather and suede handbags hand-painted with ancient Celtic designs, belts with pewter Celtic buckles, and book-covers/journals, decorated also with Celtic designs which is our speciality.

● WHAT do you like about leather-work?

We love continuing an ancient tradition of working with leather and making beautiful items for people who live in a throw-away culture, yet appreciate having something made by hand which will last for a life-time.

● WHAT do you like about living in the area?

We love living in East Devon as it's one of the most beautiful parts of Britain with its coastal and rural stunning scenery. Also the cream teas play an important part in our happiness!

● WHAT are your personal interests?

We are interested in history, ancient sites, archeology, Celtic art and culture.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

DARRELL Holmes from Kilminster opens: Once again Kilminster Baptist Church held a Messy Church last month for children and their parents. For over four years they have been welcoming in people to have fun through crafts, games, food and friendship to learn more about the stories of the Bible.

This month the theme was "Who is Jesus?" and the crafts were all based around the life of Jesus, and ended with a time of seeing how Jesus' work was to "mend what is broken, tell stories, lighten the darkness".

For more information email messykilminster@googlemail.com

The past week has seen the farewell at a packed service in Exeter Cathedral to Bishop Michael and Esther Langrish, who have been in Devon for the past 13 years. They are moving to West Sussex between Chichester and Arundel. Both the Bishop and Esther expect to find plenty to fill time, and the Bishop has already been invited to lead two pilgrimages overseas.

The process to select a new bishop is now under way.

The March Circular from CLAS outlined the requirements for Charities Online, which from April 22nd 2013 is the way in which charities are required to claim Gift Aid repayments from HMRC. CLAS has helped negotiate a transition period, but it will not be possible to claim Gift Aid using the old R68i forms after September 2013.

For churches this means, claims under the Gift Aid Small Donations Scheme (GASDS) can only be made using one of the Charities Online options. By planning now, churches can minimise the risk that Gift Aid claims may be delayed or reduced.

There is now much information available on the Charities Online pages on the HMRC website. This short Charities Online guide provides a summary of the key changes and actions that churches should take.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has revived the vacant post of Bishop at Lambeth by appointing The Right Reverend Nigel Stock from St Edmundsbury to fill the post.

David Cameron, Prime Minister, has said at the parliamentary prayer breakfast at Westminster that the country should not be afraid to celebrate its religious heritage. He added that it is encouraging that Christianity still plays such a vital role in our national life, and we should not be afraid to say so.

Seaton Hosts Major Festival to celebrate Jurassic Coast and Natural Environment

ON the 19th and 20th July, Seaton will be celebrating the Jurassic Coast and its surrounding unique natural environment in an exciting and informative event. The Natural Seaton Festival organised by Seaton Visitor Centre Trust, will showcase one of the World Heritage Site's most distinctive geomorphological areas and the East Devon Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, a landscape recognised as one of the most fabulous places in England, with something for all ages.

Whether it's delving into the Cabinet of Curiosities; visiting the amazing 360 degree Science Dome to see and hear tales of science, nature and the world of dinosaurs; experiencing the story of the Great Landslip of 1839 through puppetry or perhaps taking a unique trek to Goat Island itself, created by the Landslip and not normally accessible to the public; enjoying a cruise along the local stretch of the Jurassic Coast, taking a tram ride along the Axe Estuary to explore the Wetlands or simply enjoying crafting willow, mud monsters, creating a large Pleiosaur or painting fossils, the Festival offers everyone the opportunity to develop a deeper understanding of the natural world of Seaton and its unique natural environment.

Now in its second year, the Natural Seaton Festival celebrates the wealth of natural features and heritage opportunities within the Seaton area, and invites all ages to explore Seaton's natural world both past and present. It kicks off on Friday, 19th July at 6.30pm, with a fascinating evening of talks at Seaton Town Hall by scientists from Plymouth University on the undersea life offshore, followed by Doug Hulyer on the progress and educational benefits of the Jurassic Coast Discovery Centre planned for Seaton. On Saturday 20th July the Festival continues at the Underfleet car park and picnic site, and runs from 10.00am until 4.00pm.

There will be information stands from RSPB, AV&DCS, DWT, Natural England, Jurassic Coast team, Pebblebeds Heath Conservation Trust, Marine Conservation Society, AONB, amongst others, with an afternoon geological talk by Professor Malcolm Hart at the Wetlands Field Study Base, as well as a host of activities.

Josienne Clarke and Ben Walker are next Jurassic Folk guests

IN a scene full of songs and singers, Josienne Clarke and Ben Walker give you the real thing. Both classically trained, their musical proficiency is beyond doubt. But this isn't about technical accomplishment. This is about a song, first and foremost.

Whether interpreting words centuries old, or singing her own authentic lyrics, Josienne's jewel-like voice finds the nuance and melancholy in the simplest phrase and effortlessly sends it straight to your heart. Ben's musical tact and mastery of the guitar provide the perfect setting and allow the song centre-stage.

Josienne Clarke and Ben Walker perform at Jurassic Folk's Guest

Night on Wednesday, July 3rd from 8.15pm.

Advance tickets £8. On the door they will be £10. It all happens at the Grove, Seaton, 3rd July, with doors open at 7.45pm.

For the past seven years Elizabeth has been actively involved with the annual Lyme Regis Artsfest and last year she organised the large group exhibition held at the Baptist Church Hall.

As Ann Pengelly works mainly on creating new commissioned pieces including glass etching and traditional painted glass panels and windows her work can only be seen in the houses they were designed for. So this exhibition will be an opportunity to see some of Ann's 3D pieces including lamps, glass hangings and her delightful new clocks. Ann will also be running several summer courses this year in her well equipped studio and in nearby venues. These include Stained Glass for the garden, boats and fish for beginners and Stained Glass Panels. For full details of these and her on-going stained glass courses go to www.annpengelly-stainedglass.co.uk or ring 07979 013641. The Summer Colour Exhibition is designed to attract a wide audience from visitors to the Jurassic Coast, locals and others interested in the creative arts.

Come and join Seaton Majorettes

THE Seaton Majorettes fly the flag for Seaton at carnivals, street fairs, and charity events throughout Devon and Somerset.

The Seaton Majorettes were formed in 2004 by founder, June Millman, who had previously run the Kilmington Majorettes based at Kilmington Primary School.

There are currently 50 members in the troupe and they are looking to recruit for the 2013 carnival season.

Seaton Majorettes take girls from seven years old upwards. The cost is £10 joining fee per year and £2 per week payable in advance per term. Rehearsals take place in term time only on Tuesdays from 4pm until 5.30pm at Seaton Methodist Church.

Outfits, tracksuits, and other accessories are provided free for the time your child is a member, but a charge would be made for damaged items. You may also need to pay for the shoes needed.

Funds are needed to provide the troupe with costumes and equipment to help keep them up to a standard, so many fundraising events are held throughout the year.

The next event in the diary is a fun day on Saturday, July 6th at the Seaton Methodist Church Grounds (in the hall if wet) from 12noon until 4pm.

There will be plenty to do on the day including a coconut shy, splat the rat, barbecue, book and cake stalls and Bertie the Bus to name a few. There will also be a sponsored baton twirl led by the girls, a display by the majorettes at 12noon followed by a special sponsored display by a 'special guest' in majorette costume.

If your child is interested in joining the troupe, or you would like to book the troupe for your event please call June Millman on 01297 23491.

RENOWNED ARTIST'S EXHIBITION IN SIDMOUTH

AN EXHIBITION of sporting and wildlife art by one of Britain's foremost painters of these subjects, takes place next month in Sidmouth.

The event, showcasing the work of renowned artist Neil Cox will take place at Kennaway House between Saturday, July 6th and Sunday, July 14th.

Collectors of Neil's valuable work include Jethro, the Cornish comedian, who compares it to Thorburn.

"The work of Neil Cox reminds me very much of Thorburn," says Jethro, the renowned Cornish comedian turned restaurateur.

He should know because not long ago he owned 15 Thorburns in his private collection. In 2011 he decided to auction the majority including the magnificent Peacock and Peacock Butterfly, which broke the record for a Thorburn.

But Jethro retained the work of Neil Cox. "I'm very particular about Thorburn and for Neil's work to hang in the same room shows how highly I rate it," says Jethro. "We've kept Neil's Woodcock painting in the family and in fact it hangs over the fireplace in my son's house," he reveals.

"Neil's work has always been popular amongst the sporting fraternity, combining accuracy with authentic settings," adds Tom Rooth, Sporting Art specialist at Christies. "The composition and richness of colour have led many to compare him to Thorburn."

Mr Cox, who lives in Devon, says: "It is a great honour to be compared to the great Scottish artist whose work is so sought after. Working in oils or watercolour, most of my paintings are completed in the studio but they draw on thousands of hours in the field - this is where I'm happiest. I live in a dramatically beautiful place yet still I can't conceive of a landscape or view that isn't even further enhanced by the inclusion of some wildlife that interacts within it. For me, this extra element completes the scene and the memory of the moment is all the greater for it. Wherever possible I look to capture this feeling in my work."

Pulman's Property View

Summer Property Review

As we are now at the half way point of the year we are talking to Mark Goodenough at Pennys Fine and Country regarding the state of the local property market.

Q 1: So, year to date how is the market faring?

A: In fact, since April our Seaton and Beer offices have seen a consistent and robust demand for 'value for money' property of all types. Interestingly, 80% of the buyers are coming from outside our region as the areas popularity continues to draw buyers in.

Q 2: Which properties specifically are generating most demand?

A: Being a retirement area bungalows prove to be reliably popular but also houses and flats in all prices ranges are selling with investors and second home buyers looking to invest. The classic character cottages, particularly in Beer, Colyton and Axmouth have generated a good level of sales this year with many being sold as country retreats to buyers looking for a long term investment.

Q 3: Have you seen any movement in prices this year, either up or down?

A: In short, values and prices locally seem to be static at the moment whilst it remains a buyers market although we do see competitive bidding on the most sought after units from time to time. Unlike Central London which has seen values rise this year, we are seeing a strong appetite for sensibly priced property but purchasers are still looking to drive value for money from their purchase by making offers below the asking figure.

Q 4: How do you see the rest of the year shaping up in property circles?

A: Hopefully, buyer confidence will continue to move forward and historically the latter part of the year is busy for us in East Devon so we are quietly confident that the market will improve with a higher volume of sales.

Q 5: What advice would you give aspiring sellers looking to move this summer?

A: The key ingredient is an accurate and not over inflated asking price in tandem with an agent who can offer UK wide coverage-Pennys are linked to 700 agents throughout the country including central London. Appointing an agent who is very familiar with your location and is able to demonstrate a 'back catalogue' of sales is also paramount to getting the right advice and structured marketing package.

100% Auction Success in Devon

SYMONDS & Sampson's latest auction took place at The Guildhall, Axminster, on 20 June where a full room saw all properties sell.

Ross Willmington of Symonds & Sampson said, "We had a very interesting catalogue with some properties in need of complete modernisation and others that had been recently refurbished. Viewers were able to look at one property and if daunted by the amount of work required they could then view a property that was fully refurbished. Somebody who was tall and viewing a property with low ceilings was encouraged to view a property more suitable for their height. It all worked extremely well.

"For sale was Waterfall Cottage at Dalwood, a detached country cottage with scope for renovation on the outskirts of the village. The guide of £245,000 was easily exceeded with the cottage selling for £298,000. The land adjoining had been in separate ownership for over 100 years and found very strong competitive bidding with the 3.5 acres selling for £60,000.

"A 0.72 acre plot of land at Marshwood sold for £22,000 and Little Hawley at Dalwood sold for £375,000. Little Hawley was a lovely property that we auctioned a few years ago and has been renovated and improved by the purchasers. They kindly gave it to us to sell again. Red Lion House in Membury was a substantial late Victorian house, formerly the village inn, and had lovely grounds of 1.74 acres including outbuildings and an orchard. This sold for £345,000.

"The star of the show, however, was Mincombe Barn at Sidbury which was an attractive residential smallholding enjoying a quiet valley setting in just under 20 acres. It had a well presented, four bedroom barn conversion, courtyard of stables, farm buildings, pasture and coppice. The guide of £495,000 was easily exceeded and the hammer fell at £604,000."

The Auctioneer, Mark Lewis, said, "There was a very good atmosphere in the room, as there always is down in Devon, but it was fascinating to see that four of the lots went to London buyers. Somebody even flew back from Hong Kong for the sale."

Symonds & Sampson's next auction in Devon will be on 25 July where there will be 10 lots. For further information, please contact Ross Willmington on 01297 33122.

As soon as we walked into the office of Frank Property we knew they were the agent to sell our home. The staff were very friendly and extremely helpful. When they found us a buyer the staff went above and beyond what we expected from an Estate agent. They went out of their way to do all the things they could to make things run smoothly, liaising with both solicitors to keep our buyer and ourselves updated and informed of the progress almost on a daily basis. Our sale went through quite effortlessly thanks to the professionalism of the staff at Frank property. They provided us with an excellent service and we would definitely recommend them.

New price makes Subaru XV a true hard bargain

- £2,300 off every Subaru XV model from yesterday (July 1st)
- Recent exchange rate allows price reduction
- XV range now from £18,995 (on-the-road)

SUBARU UK has announced today a mouth-watering £2,300 price reduction on the Subaru XV, making one of the most robust and economical compact crossovers even more affordable.

The price reduction, which has been possible due to a more favourable exchange rate between Pound Sterling and the Japanese Yen, applies to every model in the Subaru XV range, and allows motorists to drive away in a new XV from just £18,995.

With much more than just school-run appeal, the XV is noted for its robust practicality, performance and excellent fuel economy and was named 'SUV of the Year' by the judges on 4x4 Magazine and has won industry recognition for its design and safety in Japan and the USA. In Europe, it was Switzerland's best selling car in August last year, toppling the VW Golf from top spot.

The Subaru XV is unusual in benefiting from permanent All-Wheel Drive as standard. Despite this, the 2.0D returns a very competitive 50.4mpg (combined cycle) and 146g/km CO2. Its high ground clearance contributes to the car's genuine off-road ability, while Subaru's trademark low centre of gravity aids the car's sporty handling on all roads.

Standard specification is generous across the range with all cars being fitted with front, side, curtain and knee airbags, front passenger airbag auto-disable, 17-inch alloy wheels, daytime running lights, heated front seats, wiper de-icers, CD player and a comprehensive Multi-Function Display. The popular SE model also gets cruise control, folding door mirrors, dual-zone air conditioning, rear view safety camera, Bluetooth, and rear privacy glass.

The XV's five-star Euro NCAP crash safety rating combines with 90% rating for child occupant protection - the best in its segment - as well as the highest possible rating in the USA's demanding Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) tests. A five-year, 100,000 mile warranty completes the package for buyers.

Haydn Davies, Marketing Director, Subaru UK, said: "Compared to rivals, the XV is one of the most robust and most economical cars available. We have taken the first opportunity to re-price the model given the changes to exchange rates and believe the price reduction now gives customers the greatest value for their money."

New Volkswagen Golf Estate: loads better, not loads more cash

THE new Golf Estate opens for ordering tomorrow (2 July), with prices starting at just £17,915 on the road – only £765 more than the equivalent Golf hatchback. Like the multi-award-winning Golf hatchback, the Golf Estate is available in S, SE and GT trim levels, with the same high levels of equipment, refinement and safety.

At the business end, the Golf Estate's loadspace volume has been expanded from the 505 litres of its predecessor to 605 litres (loaded up to the back seat backrest), versus the 380 litre of the Golf hatchback. Loaded up to the front seat backrests and under the roof, the new Golf Estate offers an impressive cargo volume of no less than 1,620 litres (versus the 1,495 litres of the Golf Estate Mk VI). The rear-seat backrests can be folded remotely via a release in the boot.

With a payload capacity of 600-611 kg (depending on engine), and a loadspace that is up to 1,831 mm long and a minimum of 1,003 mm wide, the new Golf Estate is exceptionally versatile. Making the most of the loadspace is a standard multi-level cargo floor, which ensures a flat load area, and offers somewhere to store items out of sight, while a roller-blind loadspace cover with net partition keeps items secure, and can also be stored under the boot floor when not needed.

If the cargo area isn't big enough, standard equipment on all Golf Estates includes roof rails (black on S and SE, anodised silver on GT), while the towing capacity is up to 1,600 kg (for a braked trailer, up to 12 per cent incline).

Four petrol engines are available: a 1.2-litre TSI 85 PS with five-speed manual gearbox, plus a 1.2-litre TSI 105 PS, a 1.4-litre TSI 122 PS and a 1.4-litre TSI ACT 140 PS with cylinder deactivation, all with either six-speed manual or seven-speed DSG gearboxes.

The three diesel engines are a 1.6-litre TDI 90 PS with five-speed manual gearbox, a

1.6-litre TDI 105 PS with five-speed manual or seven-speed DSG gearbox and a

2.0-litre TDI 150 PS with either six-speed manual or six-speed DSG gearbox.

All Golf Mk VII models feature BlueMotion Technology – a Stop/Start system and battery regeneration – and for the first time the Golf Estate will also be available as a 'full' BlueMotion model (with other modifications including revised aerodynamics). This model uses a 1.6-litre diesel engine producing 110 PS, has a six-speed manual gearbox, and is expected to achieve a combined fuel consumption of just 85.6 mpg (equivalent to 87 g/km of CO₂). It will go on sale before the end of the year.

All models include Bluetooth, DAB digital radio with 5.8-inch colour touchscreen, iPod connector, seven airbags, XDS electronic differential and an automatic post-collision braking system. SE models gain ADC automatic distance control with Front Assist and City Emergency Braking, 16-inch alloy wheels, rear map-reading lights, automatic lights and wipers, a Driver Alert System, driver profile selection, and the Pre-Crash preventive occupant protection system. GT adds 17-inch alloy wheels, sports suspension, 65 per cent tinted rear windows, Discover navigation system, electrically folding door mirrors and parking sensors, among other items. All UK Golf Estates (except BlueMotion) will come with a standard space-saver spare tyre.

Like the Golf hatchback, the new Golf Estate is based on the MQB platform (both have the same wheelbase). This innovative platform uses new production techniques which help make the new model up to 105 kg lighter than its predecessor, and also allows greater access to new technologies (for safety, comfort and convenience).

Renault Captur posts impressive residual value forecast with cap

RENAULT'S UK resurgence is well under way, with Clio and ZOE already picking up their fair share of acclaim from public and media pundits alike. Not to mention Dacia already outselling hordes of established rivals, just a few months since its launch. Now it's the turn of the eagerly-awaited Captur crossover to build on the gains, starting with an impressive set of residual value forecasts from leading provider, CAP.

Captur, the French marque's first compact crossover, launches on 1st July, but already its chic looks, frugal engines, high equipment levels, ingenious touches and plethora of personalisation options are proving a winning combination.

Showing that it's got the substance to back up its undoubted style, CAP believe that the Captur Expression+ 1.5 dCi 90 will hold onto a sizeable 43% of its value over three years/60,000 miles. Impressively, it matches the current class leader in this respect, the MINI Countryman. It also benefits from one of the lowest depreciation figures in its class, trouncing the aforementioned MINI with ease. A Countryman loses up to £17,000, while even the closest priced equivalents to the Renault, typically lose anywhere between £11,000 and £14,000 over the same period. Captur by contrast, is forecast to lose a considerable £4,000 to £6,000 less.

Emphasising the new model's inherent desirability, the likely best-seller, Dynamique MediaNav dCi 90 is forecast to retain 42% over the same period.

The picture is much the same with the petrol-engined versions. Mind you, the expected best-seller, 0.9 TCe 90 three-cylinder turbo, is state-of-the-art. On entry-level Expression a sizeable 41% is predicted to be the norm.

Commenting on the latest Renault to continue the marque's continued upward trend, UK Managing Director, Ken Ramirez, said, "The eagerly anticipated and completely new Renault Captur will soon be in our showrooms throughout the country; expanding our brand's presence into the rapidly expanding compact crossover class. We're delighted that the RV providers, as well as the media and our customers, have recognised its appeal."

The Captur range is already available to order, ahead of its official showroom launch on 1st July 2013. Prices start from only £12,495 on-the-road. More information on Renault's latest addition is available at <http://www.renault.co.uk/cars/model/captur/prod-uct.aspx>.

running round-up

AVR looking for new junior coach

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter

THERE was a good turnout for AVR's AGM last week in which chairman Garry Perratt stated that it had been a fantastic year and with 173 members the club was going from strength to strength.

Garry was given a rousing reception for all his hard work. Retiring junior head coach Paul Johns said it was the most successful junior year ever with 25 to 30 juniors regularly attending, sometimes up to 50.

He was pleased that many had entered races, with some doing very well indeed. Unfortunately Paul's retirement now means the junior section is short of helpers. If anyone could lend a hand for a few hours a week please email new head coach Phil Bayliss on phil.bayliss@axevalleyrunners.org.uk

Despite the somewhat draughty conditions for the Torbay Half Marathon, Graham Newton stormed around in a new PB of 1:35:17. He was 187th overall out of 1,538 and second over 60 – brilliant running. Gavin Warren was 886th, 1:59:39, Gilt Day 1,279th 2:15:29 – a new PB by seven seconds and Janet Woodward 1,280th in 2:15:31. Ethan Day has been out of running for six weeks with a broken collar bone, so he ran very well to be third overall and second boy in the one-mile fun run.

It was a blustery run at the Over the hill and Farway 10k on Sunday but a hat trick for AVR, with Tim Lenton first male runner, Amy Greenhalgh first female and Mia Bartlett first in the junior intermediate race.

Tim took off in the lead and stayed there for the whole race, with the way kindly cleared for him by a marshal on a quad bike! With the first big climb up Warren Hill in the bag, he was surprised to find the smaller climb at 6k a challenge.

That said, he still romped home in an impressive 38:57, a superb performance. Other AVR times were: Martin Croad 46:14, Eleanor Wood 47:47 and 3rd lady, Geoff Woodward 50:36, Becky Platt 52:04, Steve Reynolds 53:32 and Margaret Pearce 55:13.

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

SEVERAL Honiton Running Club members took part in the Over the Hill and Farway 10k organised by Farway Primary School last Sunday.

The figure of eight loop includes the notorious Warren Hill which has a total climb of 432 feet. This is completed within the first 3k of the race and the first male and female to the top are awarded a very well deserved prize for King and Queen of the Hill.

This year these prizes were awarded to the male and female winners of the whole race – Tim Lenton and Amy Greenhalgh both of Axe Valley Runners.

Chris Entwistle was first back for Honiton in a time of 42:46. He finished 4th overall although he was second at the top of the hill. Richard Harvey was next back in 46:28 in seventh place with Steve Davey, as usual, not far behind finishing 24 seconds and two places later.

Suzanne Spiller was first Honiton lady home and second lady overall finishing in 12th position in a time of 47:27. Richard Harris whipped up the hill but couldn't sustain his position and eventually finished 15th in 48:48.

Julie Payne has had the best part of a year off running but finished strongly in 17th place in 49:41. Tim Wigram was racing in a Honiton top for the first time and managed to beat his time of last year by about two minutes.

He was 18th in 50:23 followed by Judy Davey in 50:34 who he had overtaken in the last 200 metres. Mark Andow had managed to keep with Judy until the 6k marker and didn't finish too far behind in 22nd place in 51:35.

John Burgess has had an enforced rest from running for a few weeks and is struggling with his fitness but he finished a very creditable 28th in 54:18. Val Hales has run very little recently but she has run this race before and enjoyed it so she thought she'd give it another go. She finished 47th in 1:10:42. There were 51 runners. Thanks to the marshals, organisers and cake makers for a great event.

Further afield but still in Devon, ten Honiton runners braved the early start time of 9am to do the Torbay Half Marathon. The race starts and finishes on the seafront Eastern Esplanade, Paignton. It is a two lap course with one anti clockwise starting lap around the green before heading to Torquay. Weather conditions at the start were grey and overcast but did improve with the sun coming out by the time the runners got to Torquay on the first lap.

First home for Honiton was Vernon Gillard in 1:35:15, next home was Mark Dallyn in 1:45:20, followed by Lesely Crocker in about 1:50:00, Jennie Sleeman 1:55:01, Kathy Layzell 2:09:56, Joanne Davey 2:10:32, Wendy Le Masurier 2:11:01, Clare Melbourne 2:15:20, Kelly Allison who was running her first half marathon in 2:18:42 and Wendy Williams 2:31:08. The race was won by Boniface Kiprop in 1:05:20. There were 1,538 runners.

On the same day, Stephen Boyes took part in the Cheltenham Challenge along the Cheltenham Circular Footpath which begins and ends at the racecourse.

Participants can choose to walk or run any or all of the four sections. Of course, Stephen chose to run the whole route making a marathon distance of 26.2 miles completing it in 4 hours 10 minutes. A great effort!

horse racing wessex point-to-point championships

THE Wessex Point-to-Point Area's six main awards, sponsored this season for the first time by Spillers Horsefeeds, will be presented at the Summer Party on Saturday, July 20th, to be held at the George Albert Hotel, near Evershot, between Yeovil and Dorchester.

Leading gentleman rider is Cornishman Will Biddick, who was also crowned National Champion at Saturday's Torrington Farmers meeting at Umberleigh, Devon.

Biddick rode 38 winners this season, 26 of which were on Wessex courses, and many provided by Seaborough (Dorset) handler Richard Barber, who took both the National and inaugural Wessex Area Trainer (for yards housing 10+ horses) titles.

Barber employee Martin McIntyre completed a hat trick of wins for the Seaborough yard by taking the National and Wessex Area Novice Rider titles.

Emily MacMahon wins the Leading Lady Rider contest for the first time, thanks to her prolific partnership with Master Medic, whose five Wessex Area wins gained the Leading Owner Award for New York-based Jim Chromiak (racing as The Pell-Mell Partners). Master Medic's Okeford Fitzpaine trainer Sally Alner wins the inaugural Area Trainer's title (fewer than 10 horses).

Wessex also achieved further success on the national stage with Champagne Rosie. Trained at Sutton Montis by first season handler Charlotte Davis, John Meaden's 7yo was the runaway winner of the National Leading Novice Mare Award.

Martin McIntyre also triumphed in the two Badbury Rings/Millborne St Andrew awards – the Dick & Sue Woodhouse Memorial Challenge Cup, jointly with last season's winner Louis Muspratt, and the Eric Dymott Novice Riders Trophy, where Muspratt came just one point behind in second.

Other memorial awards include the John Dufosse Trophy for the most successful owner-rider in Wessex, won by Lucy Gould (Special Occasion) and the Angie Burrough Trophy for the best rider at her three favourite meetings, won by Josh Guerriero.

Welcome new sponsors for 2013 were estate agents Greenslade Taylor Hunt, who provided an award for the most successful horse on courses in the west of the area. The winner was Lucy Gould's Special Occasion.

At Larkhill Racecourse Master Medic gained further glory as Leading Horse in the Larkhill Specialist Awards.

Richard Barber regained his place as Leading Trainer after being pipped at the post last year by Stuart Penny.

Runaway Leading Jockey was area champion Will Biddick. Only three points separated the top three for the Leading Owner-Trainer title, which was won by Tom Lacey, followed by El Tanner and Edward Magor.

Likewise, Felix Wheeler took the Leading Owner-Rider award, closely followed by Caroline Dennis and David Renney.

Further information and tickets for the Summer Party can be obtained from Sarah Barber on 01460 74943 or by emailing sarah@peckmoor.co.uk.

sailing beer luggers

FIVE luggers took part in last Tuesday's race (June 18th) which was competed in a calm sea with a light southerly breeze writes John Mortimore.

Due to wind conditions the race was staged over two rounds over a shorter course.

The Percy Mitchell and Cuckoo led the way from the starting line. Moondance and Katherine made a tack shorewards while the rest of the fleet sailed seawards searching for more wind.

The first lugger to the windward mark was the Percy Mitchell closely followed by Cuckoo with Moondance in third.

Sailing toward the home buoy the Percy Mitchell continued to edge ahead before being overhauled by Cuckoo as the race neared the windward buoy for the second time.

At this point the wind dropped still further leaving the luggers drifting along and the race officer decided to shorten the race. This left Cuckoo well in front of the rest.

◆ Result: 1st – Cuckoo (sailed by G.Dart), 2nd – Percy Mitchell (K.Gosling), 3rd – Moondance – (G.Pook), 4th – Puffin (R.Driver), 5th – Katherine (T.Tolman).

motor racing three clubs

David and Cameron lead the way!

THE winners of the weekend's Three Clubs Manor Farm hill climb had a prime ministerial ring to them, with Newton Abbot's Dave Sims taking FTD on Saturday and Ian Cameron snatching the honour in Sunday's worsening conditions.

Co-promoted by Taunton, Burnham-on-Sea and Torbay Motor Clubs, the events were rounds of two regional contests, the Bridge Tyres and Wheels Point S 2013 Association of South Western Motor Clubs Hill Climb and the Top Performance Services 2013 Association of Central Southern Motor Clubs Speed Hill-climb Championships.

The two days of competition proved to be very different, with Saturday's entrants enjoying largely fair conditions, enabling Sims' (2-litre Ralt RT33/34 SRD) to dip into the 27 second bracket on his second run, a full one and half seconds faster than his nearest rival in the racing car classes, John Burton (Ralt RT3) only managing a time of 29.19 seconds.

More intense competition for the top of the podium came from Andrew Short's Sports Libre OMS SC21, and Colin Satchell and Paul Drowne in their modified-class Peugeot 205's.

All three set sub-29 second times, with Drowne snatching the C3 class award from Satchell by the slimmest of margins, just 1/100th of a second.

Robert Thomson (Vauxhall Nova GTE) initially dominated the packed ranks of 13 competitors in Class A2 with two runs under 32 seconds, which none of his rivals could approach until Jonathan Langmead (Lotus Elan S3) topped the times with a last-gasp run of 31.35 seconds.

Sunday was a very different proposition, with erratic bursts of rain and drizzle making track conditions hard to read, a progressively wet practice period and only marginally better conditions for the second timed run.

Unable to put down the full power of the SRD-powered Ralt, Dave Sims had to be content with a class win whilst Cameron's nimble 1300cc category Chaplin Hornet was better able to cope with the slippery track, taking the win with a second run of 29.37 seconds.

For the second year running, Stuart Browne (OMS SF2) was once again the 'best of the rest', with a Sunday time of 30.12 seconds.

In A2 Jonathan Langmead was inexplicably off-form in the wet conditions, allowing Honiton-resident Robert Thomson to exact revenge for the previous day, his winning time of 34.91 being almost a full second ahead of his nearest rival.

The long-standing battle for supremacy in the largest capacity standard production class was 'honours even', with Yeovil's Simon Neve (Mitsubishi Lancer Evo6) taking the class on Saturday and Exeter garage-owner Steve Clarke (Subaru Impreza) settling the score with half-second advantage on Sunday.

Father and son pairing David and Jan Yeo, who share their Westfield SEI, scrapped for the class award once again in B2, with David this time turning the tables on his son by taking victory on both days, exactly the opposite result from 2012.

No less than ten drivers completed double victories, winning their classes on both days, including David Foster (Mini 1275GT), Burnham-on-Sea member Anthony Wright (Audi A3), Andy Cawsey (Westfield SEW), Gordon Iles (Vauxhall Tigra), Paul Drowne (Peugeot 205 GTi), Tim Porter (Darrian T90) and Andrew Forsyth (Alfa-Dana).

Graham Gonzalez was also a double victor, taking the honours in the DEWS Speed Series class with his 1380cc Austin Mini.

Raleigh now to Poppleford

NINE new clubs were accepted into the Fresha Devon & Exeter League next season after approval from the Annual General meeting held at Pinhoe recently.

Former Sunday League team Henrys Cronies and the Railway Club both from Exeter, along with former clubs Bradninch and Kentisbeare will start the new season in Division Seven. Reserve teams from Alphington, Bradninch, Elmore, St Martins and Woodbury were also voted in and will operate in Division Eight.

However Folly Gate & Inwardleigh have withdrawn, along with reserve teams from Colaton Raleigh, Culm United, North Tawton, Sidbury United, Tipton St John, and Topsham Town.

Exeter University won the Bill Rees Sportsmanship Shield for the second successive year but sadly were not in attendance to receive the award which is voted for by referees on Premier matches throughout the season.

Remarkably four teams have changed their name. Heavitree Social United have returned to their original team name of Heavitree United. Exeter Civil Service are now Exwick Villa, Colaton Raleigh have changed to Newton Poppleford which is where they are based, and Amory Argyle are to be known as Amory Green Rovers.

Concerns by the League that the National FA respect campaign would be voted out of the rules by a proposal from the North Devon referees association were dismissed after a communication from the FA that the rule must stand as it is.

The League asked clubs to let them know if referees failed to precede matches with the "handshake".

With the new mandatory Injury Benefits scheme coming in from the Devon FA, clubs voted in a change to the Leagues own scheme which will run alongside the FA scheme. Clubs taking the minimum cover will be invoiced £65 by the FA and £55 by the League, although they have the option to increase the FA cover to a higher level.

All last seasons Officers were voted back in office but the League are still short of Management committee members, and are seeking volunteers to fill around four vacancies.

Gymnasts return with big medals haul

A TEAM of acrobats from Honiton Gymnastics Club has just returned from the Geneva International Acro Cup clutching a haul of medals and as winners of the competition's overall team trophy.

The 15 gymnasts – aged between 10 and 21 – were competing at the annual international gymnastics competition, which featured performers from countries including Russia, Ireland, South Africa and Switzerland. The talented youngsters brought home six gold medals, four silvers, two bronzes, and two fourth places.

"Our gymnasts competed excellently and represented both the club and Honiton admirably," said Helen Reddy, high performance coach at Honiton Gymnastics Club.

"It's always satisfying to perform well when you go to competitions abroad, so for so many of our gymnasts to take top honours in Switzerland is credit not only to them but also the progress that the gym club is currently making.

"Winning the overall team trophy made the trip even more rewarding."

The gymnasts included students from Honiton Community College, Offwell Primary School, The Kings School, The Woodroffe School in Lyme Regis, and Ivybridge Community College.

Six golds, four silvers and two bronzes

The club's accolades comprised two gold medals for the women's trio of Molly Thompson, Faye Miles and Charlotte Bowen; two gold medals for Buster Tutcher and Ashley Wallis in 11-16 men's pairs; a gold and a silver medal for Josh Jackson and Charlotte Bevis in 11-16 mixed pairs; a gold and a silver medal for Adam Fullick and Megan Jones in 11-16 mixed pairs; two silver medals for Kaisha Dessalines-Wright and Alice Hewstone in 11-16 girls' pairs; two bronze medals for Sean Kingston and Megan Cross in 11-16 mixed pairs; and two fourth places for Georgia Rooke and Natalya Pushkarev.

"We now take our highest level gymnasts to an international competition each year, and it's a great opportunity for them not only to compete against gymnasts from different countries but also to make new friends and broaden their horizons," added Helen.
